

More Than 3,000 Die in Quake

REPORTER'S REFLECTIONS

The specter of a group of people becoming progressively intoxicated is a frightful thing to watch when it involves individuals beginning to lose their sense of being persons and their wills progressively being controlled by a group psychosis.

This happened Thursday night in Page Park.

It did not develop to an intense degree partly because the crowd was relatively small; that it was a cool evening and there was an absence of any agitators.

It seemed to grow, as the evening wore on, out of boredom.

A crowd of mostly older teenagers, had been quietly in the area during the evening talking and watching the thousands of cars which passed along the park drive.

The evening appeared to be, uneventfully, coming to a close; the traffic flow had slackened; the crowd was thinning out as people left the area.

The "thing" seemed to say "something must happen before the night is over."

The fence surrounding the duck traps, in places, was down already.

One, then another and soon a dozen persons stepped over the downed fence to take a closer look at the traps.

A photographer's flash as he took a picture sent them scurrying back across the fence.

The "thing" had started, however, and shortly thereafter, one heard the sound of slats breaking as a knot of individuals moved onto the down snow fence; then the knot of humanity had numbers added to it and moved along the fence and down it went entirely.

In the meantime, others ventured down to the traps and this time one of the traps was thrown in the river and the other was tipped over.

The next foray into the area of the traps was by four women who picked up the tipped over trap and flung it into the river.

By this time, also, the snow fence was in the river.

At each burst of new-found courage, the non-participating spectators applauded and cheered.

At no time was a real ugly mood displayed by the crowd but one could sense that individuals in a group were doing things they would not do, individually.

People, mostly older adults, rapidly began leaving the area.

A smaller group stayed on, apparently waiting to see what the official reaction to the acts would be.

Calm settled once again on Page Park Friday night as only a handful of duck "protectors" appeared to stand their vigil against having the ducks removed.

It was reported that early Friday morning, two Dixon youths recovered the duck traps thrown into the river Thursday by an angry crowd protesting the Park District's action.

The youths, the report says, replaced the traps on the river bank, but later Friday night, the traps were returned to the river. This time they were placed almost in the middle of the river.

The snow fence which was trampled over Thursday, was permanently removed by the city sometime Friday night.

Jack Keegan, president of the Park Board, could not be reached today for comment on what action he intends to take, if any.

Painful Airlines Strike Has Ended; Full Flight Schedules Within Hours

Union Accepts Settlement, 17,727-8,235

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's air service moved rapidly back toward normal today as mechanics of five major airlines accepted a new contract and ended the worst airlines walkout in U.S. history.

The first planes started flying early today and spokesmen for the airlines — Eastern, United, Northwest, National and Trans World—said they hoped to have full schedules operating within 24 hours. For six weeks, their planes had been grounded by the strike of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

The union, which had rejected an earlier settlement proposal, voted 17,727 to 8,235 Friday to accept the latest offer and return to work.

"The strike is now over," said the union's president P.L. (Roy) Siemiller as he announced the results.

The contract approval sending 35,400 strikers back to work permits Congress to drop politically explosive legislation that would have ordered strikers back to their jobs for the first time in U.S. history. Organized labor had lined up solidly in opposition to the legislation.

But it shatters White House guidelines designed to limit wage hikes to 3.2 per cent a year and sets a precedent for other unions to cite in pressing for fatter paychecks.

Estimated at a 6 per cent or more annual increase, the new contract gives 15 per cent in wage hikes over three years plus a cost-of-living guarantee against sharply rising prices worth up to 6 cents more per hour in the final year of the agreement in 1968. This means top-rated mechanics, who have been receiving $3.25 an hour, will be paid at least $4.08 an hour within three years.

Siemiller already was looking to the future.

"It is just like a prize fight," he said. "This round is over, but there will be another one in 2 years and 4 months," referring to the contract's expiration date. Fully paid pensions and better health benefits and vacations will be prime goals next time, Siemiller said.

In an early indication to the effect of the hefty contract, the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America said in taking a nationwide strike vote among Western Electric Co. telephone installers that it was shooting for a similar agreement designed to shatter the administration's anti-inflation wage guidelines.

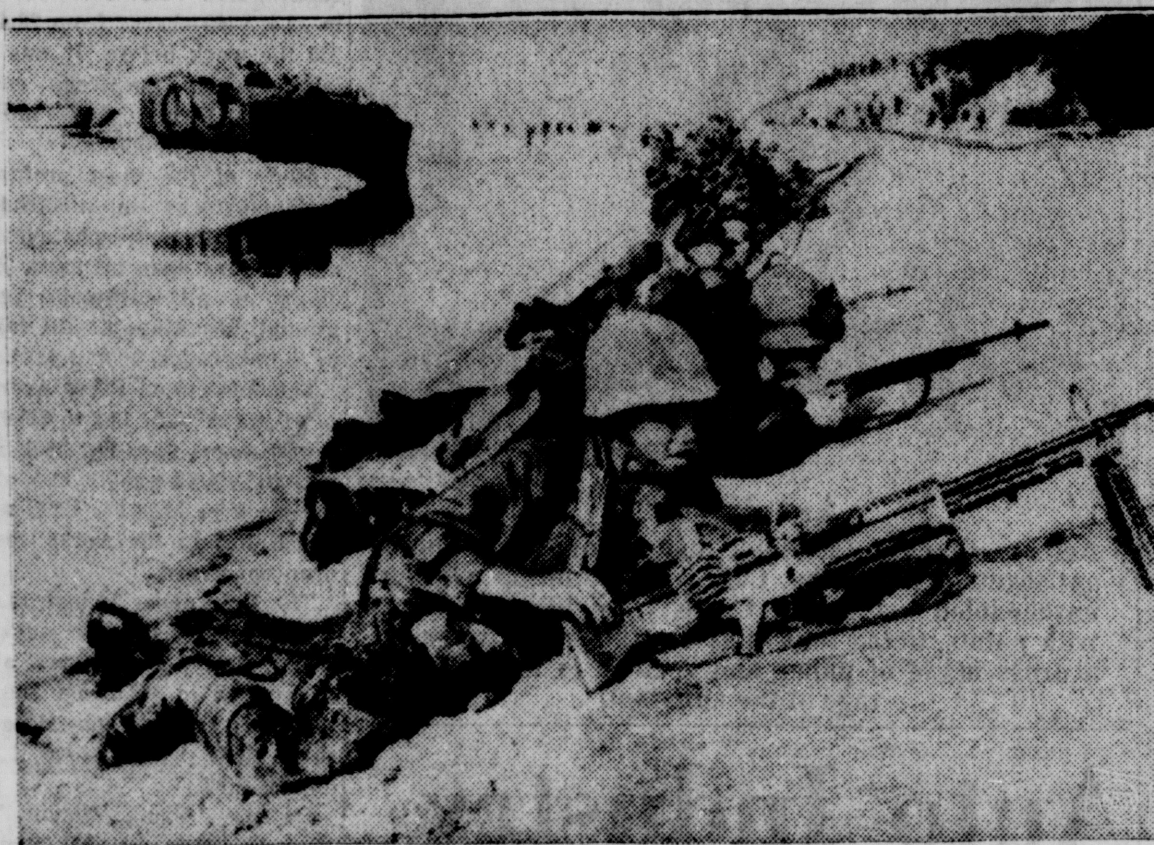

The five airlines lost estimated revenues of $340 million during the strike, although it was not certain how much of this would be recouped through a pact under which other big airlines that remained operating share windfall profits with four of the grounded carriers.

The strikers and furloughed employees of the five airlines lost an estimated $67 million in wages, some of it covered by $25 weekly strike benefits and temporary jobs elsewhere.

Sheely said in the past few weeks fire trucks have been hampered while going to a fire. He said some motorists have been ignoring the sirens.

Would Authorize Fine, Jail Term

Anti-Viet Nam War Legislation Imminent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation designed to curb the activities of anti-Viet Nam war groups appears headed for overwhelming House approval on the heels of this week's tumultuous hearings by the Committee on Un-American Activities.

"I think Congress is very receptive to this legislation," said Rep. Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., acting committee chairman.

Other members agreed that the defiant committee-baiting by antiwar witnesses and admission by several witnesses that they are communists will help speed the legislation to early House passage.

Pool said he would seek committee approval next week of a bill he introduced to authorize maximum $20,000 fines and 20-year jail terms for persons convicted of helping the Viet Cong or North Vietnamese or of trying to block the movement of U.S. men and materials to Viet Nam.

In the Senate, leaders were reported waiting for House action before deciding on setting hearings. One source said the bill would have a good chance in the Senate — if it could be brought to the floor before Congress ends its session.

The investigative phase of the hearings was concluded Friday in another turbulent session in which more than a dozen persons, including three witnesses, were tossed out. Police said seven men and five women were booked on disorderly conduct charges, bringing the number of arrests in four days of hearings to more than 50.

The committee then turned its attention to the legislation itself, hearing witnesses asking passage of a bill.

Meanwhile, Arthur A. Kinoy, the 45-year-old New York attorney whose ejection Wednesday led to the walkout of lawyers for all subpoenaed witnesses at the hearings, was found guilty in General Sessions Court of disorderly conduct.

Judge Harold H. Greene fined him $50, then suspended the sentence. Kinoy, visibly moved, said the case would be appealed and predicted reversal.

Kinoy was dragged out of the hearing room by three marshals.

on orders of Pool after he persisted in making legal objections when told to sit down. The judge said it appeared that Kinoy "tried to shout out the chairman."

An organization called the Coordinating Committee to Defend the Civil Liberties of the Anti-War Movement announced it would hold a rally at the Washington Monument this afternoon, then march on the Capitol to protest the hearings and the ejection of Kinoy.

King Says He Is Prepared; March Sunday

CHICAGO (AP) — Civil rights leaders are under a court order restricting the scope of open housing demonstrations, which have been marked by violence in all-white neighborhoods, but Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said marches "probably will be resumed Sunday as planned."

"We are prepared to put thousands in the street if need be," he said.

Circuit Judge Cornelius J. Harrington issued the temporary restraining order Friday at the request of the city of Chicago and Police Supt. Orlando W. Wilson.

His order limits the number of demonstrators to 500, permits only one march a day, only during non-rush hour daylight periods and requires that police be given 24 hours advance notice of any demonstration.

The city's complaint, filed at the direction of Mayor Richard J. Daley, accused civil rights leaders of carrying out a plan of "creative tension." It said that "major civil disturbances erupted" in June and July "resulting in damages in excess of several million dollars to private property, the death of 27 persons and injury to 374 persons, including 61 police officers."

The reference to 27 deaths apparently covered all killings attributed to racial tensions in the city. No violent deaths have been reported during the marches into white neighborhoods in support of open housing. Two persons were shot and killed during riots on the West Side in mid-July.

Pool indicated he wants to wind up the hearings Monday, have the committee go into executive session Tuesday and report out a bill Wednesday. He plans to leave on a trip to Viet Nam Thursday.

Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., who was the first congressman to introduce legislation aimed at antiwar activities, and Edwin Meese, assistant district attorney of Alameda County (Oakland, Calif.), urged approval of the Pool bill in testimony Friday.

Meese had appeared earlier to describe the activities of antiwar groups in the Oakland-Berkeley-San Francisco area.

The committee also heard three subpoenaed witnesses and Pool ordered two of them — Steven C. Hamilton, and Steven Cherkoss, both of Berkeley, Calif., — ejected when they refused to leave the stand.

Hamilton tried to introduce what he called "people's exhibits" describing profits of big U.S. corporations and Cherkoss attempted to give a speech denouncing the committee.

Victorious Aussies Hunt Fleeing Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Australian infantrymen hunted remnants of a North Vietnamese battalion 40 miles southeast of Saigon today after battering the Communists with artillery fire and killing at least 227 of them.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Viet Nam, called the Aussies' action a "significant victory."

Hanoi Told U.S. Will Not Bomb N. Viets -- LBJ

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — President Johnson said today Hanoi's leaders have been told the United States will halt its bombing of North Vietnamese military targets if the Communists stop sending troops into South Viet Nam.

And as he stumped across New England in campaign fashion, Johnson also touched on racial riots, declaring efforts to open up opportunities to American Negroes "can succeed only in conditions of civil peace."

In a speech prepared for a Manchester appearance, the second stop in the second day of a five-state swing, Johnson said Hanoi holds "the passkey to peace."

Johnson did not disclose in what manner, nor how recently, the offer to cease bombing was relayed to North Vietnamese leaders, saying only that it has been made known to them both publicly and privately that, "If they will stop sending troops into South Viet Nam, we will immediately stop bombing military targets in their own country."

The President called upon South Vietnamese who support the Communists to give up their fight as a losing cause.

Johnson said the Communists do not want South Viet Nam's September elections to succeed.

As the elections draw near, Johnson said, "We can expect more kidnappings, more raids against civilian leaders, more atrocities, and more acts of sabotage. But we can also expect the elections to be held and the Vietnamese to continue to put down foundations of self-government."

In discussing peace prospects, Johnson said:

"It may be one month or many. It may be one year or several. No one knows but the men in Hanoi. They hold the passkey to peace; only they can decide when the objective they seek is no longer worth the cost it carries."

Army Sent To Aid Victims

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Rescue workers today counted nearly 1,000 bodies of victims from the catastrophic earthquake that ripped across eastern Turkey Friday and officials said the toll probably will go far beyond 3,000.

The number of known and estimated dead rose by the hour as army and civilian rescue teams fought through the rugged, mountainous back country of the quake-stunned area to reach destroyed villages and towns.

Officials reported many thousands injured.

The full fury of the quake Friday afternoon hit the town of Varto, a community of 3,000 inhabitants. "It can be said that nothing remained of Varto," a Turkish Army officer reported from the scene.

The Turkish Interior Ministry earlier had expressed belief the quake, which leveled dozens of other villages, might have taken 1,500 lives.

Civilian officials at Varto said 816 bodies had been recovered in that area alone and they estimated that at least 3,000 persons had perished in the surrounding desert of rubble left by the killer quake.

They said scores of villages around Varto had been wiped out.

A Turkish radio report said many inhabitants were buried under the wreckage, including some pupils at the Varto school, who could be faintly heard crying for help.

The quake struck mountain villages in four provinces near the Iranian frontier, about 650 miles east of Istanbul.

The governor of Erzurum Province reported in a radio broadcast from Ali Akarsu Friday night that all dwellings were leveled in 24 villages in the province. He said about 90 per cent of all buildings in the city of Erzurum, with a population of 55,000 were demolished, as were most of those in Hınıs Township. The local hospital also was destroyed.

The casualty reports from the four stricken provinces — Erzurum, Mus, Bingol and Bitlis — rose as the Turkish government with the help of the U.S. Air Force mounted a massive emergency aid and rescue operation.

The Turkish 3rd Army based in the city of Erzurum, largest urban center in the disaster area, sent troops and trucks into the surrounding mountainous countryside to reach residents of ruined villages.

The U.S. Air Force sent one plane load of doctors and medical supplies into the stricken area from Ankara and two others from Adana and alerted two more plane loads to follow.

Hanoi said two U.S. planes were shot down Friday, but there was no confirmation of this in Saigon. North Viet Nam also charged that U.S. planes staged 69 raids on North Vietnamese dikes and dams during July and said raids were continuing this month. U.S. officials disclaim knowledge of such attacks.

In South Viet Nam, American pilots flew 433 sorties and claimed destruction of 655 huts and 52 sampans. South Vietnamese pilots got in 293 sorties, the spokesman said.

Susan's Death Was 'Accident' -- Dewey

SYCAMORE, Ill. (AP) — Russell Dewey, 25, has told a Circuit Court jury he killed 11-year-old Susan Brady accidentally and not deliberately, as the state contends.

Dewey took the witness stand in his own behalf Friday and gave his version of how the young Rockford girl died Dec. 20. He is charged with murder.

Dewey's testimony concluded the defense's presentation. Judge Charles Seidel indicated he would charge the jury immediately after the attorneys give their final arguments.

The jury of six men and six women was expected to begin deliberating by noon Saturday. Dewey, also of Rockford, said he struck Susan accidentally with his car. The child disappeared on her way home after school.

Dewey, who was on the witness stand one hour, 45 minutes, told the court he became frantic after driving into the girl.

"I went half a block and then I stopped the car," he testified. "I looked around and I couldn't see anything, but I backed up, and I ran over something. It was the little girl, and I put her on the front seat."

Dewey added, "I thought I heard sounds," and he started for a hospital.

He told the jury that he then decided the girl was dead and he drove to the home of his grandparents on the outskirts of Rockford. They were not at home.

Dewey related he put the girl's body into a steel drum used as an incinerator and burned it, adding gasoline several times to keep the fire going.

He told the jury he found only ashes in the incinerator in the morning and took them to a dump.

Dewey was asked if he had ever given small girls rides in his car. He replied that he had driven about 10 girls home, adding that he gave rides to people in general during December.

The defense presented a dozen character witnesses, including children who countered testimony of prosecution witnesses who said Dewey approached several small girls and offered them rides in his car.

One witness, Christine Ameling, 9, told the jury Dewey was well known to her family and had been in her home several times.

Under questioning of his attorney, Roy Lasswell, Dewey said he offered a ride to one prosecution witness, Patricia Benner, 13, but because he thought she was Christine Ameling, who looks like the Brenner girl.

Dewey testified he had never seen another prosecution witness, Ardenne Carlson, 12. The Carlson girl testified earlier that a big man in a green car had approached her and questioned her.

Accident Victims Are Better

Three persons admitted to KSB Hospital Wednesday following a one-car accident near Woonung which claimed the life of a fourth today are reported as "slightly improved," by hospital authorities.

Pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital Wednesday was Richard Cavazos, Rock Falls, a passenger in the northbound auto on Illinois 26 which left the road and smashed head-on into a culvert.

Driver of the car, Eugene Wallis, 19, Sterling and two other passengers, Charles Hernandez, 18, Rock Falls, and Jose Ramos, 16, Sterling, were listed in critical condition by hospital officials when they were admitted Wednesday.

Auto Industry Meets Monday With Unions

DETROIT (AP) — Against a background of unrest among skilled tradesmen over work orders and wages, auto industry representatives meet Monday with the United Auto Workers on a proposal that skilled workers be granted an immediate pay raise.

The UAW's contracts with the Big Three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — don't expire for another year. The union wants to reopen the agreements to negotiate a wage increase. The industry is expected to reject the proposal, which comes as it is beginning production of 1967 models.

Ford Motor Co. said 195 of 285 skilled workers on the day shift at its Woodhaven stamping plant were absent Friday and called the absenteeism "an unauthorized work stoppage." But 1,400 production workers remained on the job and Ford said production continued.

Edward J. Plawewski, president of UAW Local 387, said the men failed to report because new orders assign electricians to cleanup work properly done by janitors. Similar cleanup work was planned for tool and die makers, Plawewski claimed.

However, a Ford spokesman said electricians have been required for the last year to clean up their work areas rather than start new jobs if they had 15 minutes or so of spare time at the end of a shift. If there was no time, he said, they were not required to do it.

The spokesman said tool and die makers already are required to clean up their work areas when time allows.

Both skilled and production workers have complained throughout the industry about work rules and production standards, the UAW said.

Leaders of a movement to get an immediate pay raise for the skilled workers tried, meanwhile, to figure out what to do about production worker demands to be included in any pay raise. There are 700,000 production workers and 200,000 skilled tradesmen employed in the auto industry.

The union is asking for at least 50 cents an hour more for the skilled trades, but some of the workers have announced they want $1.

Production workers announced no goal, but officers of Ford Local 600 told UAW President Walter Reuther in a letter: "We would be unable to explain to the men and women on the production line if they do not share in any gains made by our union."

Skilled tradesmen demonstrated earlier this week for the wage reopener, and closed a Chrysler tool and die plant for a time.

The UAW skilled tradesmen working in auto plants contend they are underpaid when compared with wage rates for similar skills in other industries.

Market Slumps

Wall Street Gloomy

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market this week took its worst fall in more than four years, rivaling the drop of May 1962 just prior to the "Black Monday" plunge.

Wall Street was wrapped in gloom over high interest rates, tight money and the possible fate of business and the economy later in 1966 and in 1967. The market fell sharply every day.

But there was no panic, no rush to sell. Volume did pick up to 32,632,260 shares from 28,411,250 the week before. It was the largest since the week ended June 25, when 35.7 million shares changed hands.

Many of the most profitable glamor stocks in electronics, office equipment, photography and airlines were hit hard. Blue chips in all categories gave ground, resulting in stiff losses to the averages.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 13.3 to 289.0, its lowest since Jan. 20, 1964. This was its worst weekly loss since the week of May 26, 1962, when it fell 16.3 in the worst weekly drop on record.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 35.91 this week to 804.62. This was its lowest since it dropped to 800.31 on June 8, 1964, and its worst loss since the same 1962 week when it declined 38.82.

On the "Black Monday" of May 28, 1962, the AP average fell 13.4 and the Dow Industrials 34.95. A temporary recovery followed that big shakeout — the worst since the 1929 crash — but the market did not reach its bottom until the end of June 1962.

Many Wall Streeters were asking this weekend whether the 1962 history would repeat. A strong technical rally, at least, is anticipated, but not lasting recovery until some sign that the tight money situation is being reversed, analysts say.

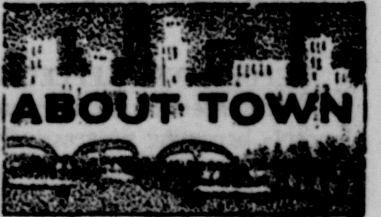

Of 1,581 issues traded this week, 1,393 stocks fell and 106 rose.

The 37-point fall of Xerox was one of the most sensational. Fairchild Camera dropped 12½ points, Polaroid 15, Itel 15½, Burroughs 8½ and Eastern Air Lines 6½.

Airlines rallied in the midst of a general market decline on Monday. They were spurred by another proposed settlement of the airline strike. Later in the week, however, the question whether the union would accept it was still in the air and there was some further selling of airlines.

The market plunged steeply Tuesday in advance of news which came after the close that leading banks were raising their prime interest rate to 6 per cent from 5½ per cent. The fall continued Wednesday but at a slower pace.

Death of Poloan Ruled A Suicide

POLO — An inquest jury today ruled the death of Charles O'Dair "suicidal," that he died of a "cerebral hemorrhage resulting from a self-inflicted gunshot wound." Lee County Coroner Robert Preston reported. O'Dair died last night in KSB Hospital, Dixon.

The inquest, held this morning at the Brown-Seidel Funeral Home, Polo, revealed two handwritten notes left by O'Dair, stating that he was suffering from "very ill health," many ailments, and pains," supposedly those he suffered in a June 2 fatal accident.

One note was found on his body by Polo Police Chief Basil Rindard, and the other note found in the house, was addressed to his family, requesting a private funeral.

One of the notes was dated Friday 3:40 p.m.

At 4:40 p.m. Friday, O'Dair's brother, Kenneth, with whom he shared the house, came home from work and discovered the body.

He was taken to KSB Hospital Friday at 5:15 p.m. and died at 6:20 p.m., almost three hours after inflicting the wound.

O'Dair, charged with reckless homicide by a Lee County coroner's jury, had been named recently in a $101,500 suit filed Aug. 1 by Joseph Kurzrock, Dixon, whose wife, Diane L. Kurzrock, 28, was killed in the June 2 accident.

Mrs. Kurzrock, the mother of four children, died of a broken neck when O'Dair's car rammed into a motorcycle she was riding. O'Dair was seriously injured in the same accident.

Charles W. O'Dair, 44, 317 W. Oregon St., Polo, was born in Ogles County near Oregon, April 2, 1922, the son of Franklin and Nellie Wagner O'Dair.

He was preceded in death by his mother and sister.

Survivors include his father, Oregon; four brothers, George, Houston, Tex.; Kenneth, Polo; Frederick, Dixon, and Richard, Lake Forest; and two sisters, Mrs. Ronald (Neta) Kneif, Sterling, and Mrs. Elton (Annabel) Eisenhower, Jersey Shore, Pa.

Private services for the family will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Brown-Seidel Funeral Home, Polo, with the Rev. Lowell Allen, of the Polo Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Chapel Hill Cemetery, Dixon. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday after 7 p.m. and Monday before the services.

Ralph Pierce, who operates a photography shop here, is being featured along with "his madcap magic," at the Annual Magicians National Convention in Colon, Mich., this weekend.

"Tops" magazine, a news roundup of nationally-known magicians published once a month, is sponsoring the five-day convention.

Pierce is among 40 magicians asked by the magazine to perform for his fellow tradesmen and was selected to perform from among the foremost magicians in America and abroad.

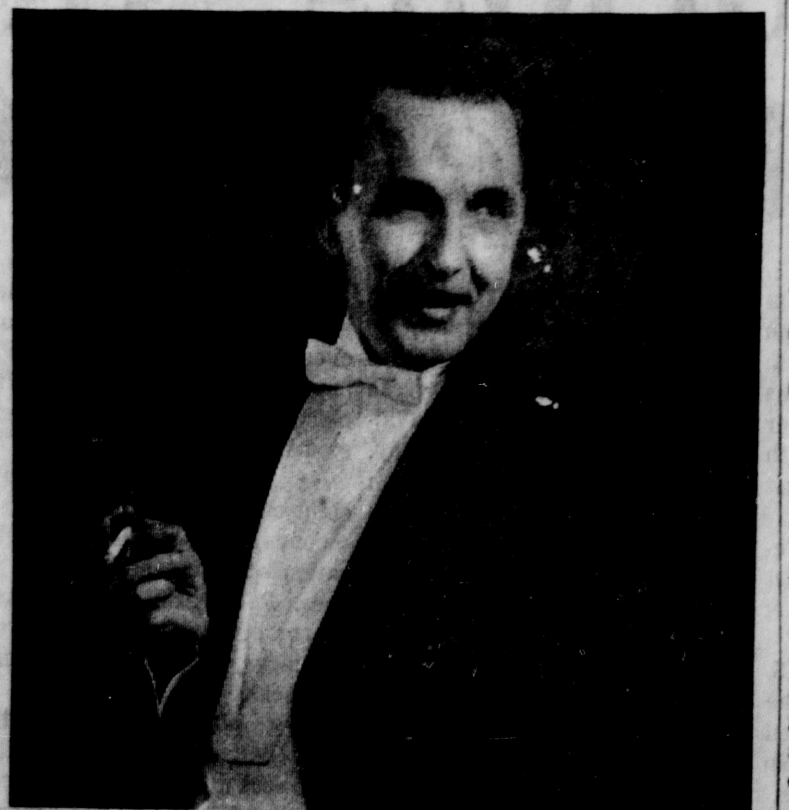

He is accompanied by his son-in-law, Al Huang, who will act as his assistant for the performance.

Pierce and his madcap magic isn't a newcomer to this area. He spent 20 years in show business, performing professionally in school and college assemblies, full-evening sponsored shows, theatres, in every part of the United States.

Upset Primary Win Ends in Court Audit

By BILL SCHULZ

WASHINGTON—Milton Shapp is a wealthy industrialist who firmly believes that money can buy happiness. And happiness, to Milt Shapp, is the governor's mansion at Harrisburg, Pa.

Shapp was the talk of the political world when he captured the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in May. He defeated the organization candidate, State Sen. Robert Casey, in a race most of the experts said he couldn't win.

A fascinating tale is now unfolding in Dauphin County court house at Harrisburg, that details the manner in which Shapp captured the Democratic nomination. Supporters of Lt. Gov. Raymond Shafer, the Republican gubernatorial nominee, have filed suit asking the court to audit the Shapp books.

Shapp spent $1.4 million (all but $5,111 of it his own money) to defeat Casey. He spent funds lavishly to buy the support of virulent racists on one hand and prominent Negroes on the other.

In one of his first moves after entering the race, Shapp persuaded a leading Pennsylvania race-baiter, Harvey Johnston, to withdraw his candidacy. Johnston was paid $15,000 and threw his support to Shapp.

Ironically, Johnston is an avowed anti-semitic and Shapp is Jewish.

According to court testimony, Johnston, who heads up the racist National Association for the Advancement of White People, worked in Shapp's Philadelphia headquarters, and contacted his supporters throughout the state urging support of Shapp.

Some time after Shapp purchased Johnston's support, it was testified, news leaked out and the millionaire industrialist announced he was repudiating it. That was April 1. On April 12, however, Johnston cashed a Shapp check for several thousand dollars.

In other testimony before the Dauphin County Court, Shapp frankly admitted his dealings with Johnston, whom he called a "very dynamic" person. "We were on agreement on several issues like highway safety and clean streams, but we were far apart on racial matters," Shapp said. "If he had not been connected with the NAACP, I would have held on to him. He was a tremendous worker."

At the same time he was paying off Johnston, Shapp was spending freely to win Negro support. He hired two colored ministers to travel across the state plugging his candidacy. And he used a Negro public relations man, Randolph Brooks, to purchase endorsements from leading Negro athletes.

Brooks, who was arrested last week on a charge of jury fixing, paid football star Clarence Peaks $270 for his support. Track star Irv Davis was paid $200. Basketball Great Wilt Chamberlain and halfback Timmy Brown of the Philadelphia Eagles also received "honorariums" for endorsing Shapp.

Shapp left little to chance. In at least two Philadelphia wards, it was testified, he paid poll workers bonuses of 50 cents for every Shapp vote cast in the May primary. Both wards went overwhelmingly for Shapp.

CAPITAL CAPSULE: When House Republicans opposed a $750,000 mansion for the vice president earlier this year, Democrats argued that the federal funds might not be required. Rep. Kenneth Gray (D-Ill.), floor manager of the bill, said that contributions from the public might cover the cost of the Vice's new home. Rep. James Cleveland (R-N.H.) recently checked to see exactly how much money had come in from private sources. Total: four dollars and a packet of Confederate bills.

Leaders of the Illinois AFL-CIO met last week in Chicago and earmarked $100,000 for a massive voter registration campaign to aid Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), who is up for re-election. Douglas, who is given a 100 per cent "pro-labor" voting record by the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, faces a tough challenge from Republican Chuck Percy.

On Aug. 7, the Office of Economic Opportunity released a 15-page report to the nation's press entitled "Job Corps Centers, Communities Enjoy Good Relations." On Aug. 8, police in Battle Creek, Mich., turned back a marauding band of 150 club-wielding Job Corpsmen who were intent on violence.

Vandals recently broke into a Denville, N.J., public school, desecrated an American flag and painted across the auditorium floor, "Death in Viet Nam to the American Pigs." Rep. Richard Roudebush (R-Ind.) continues his fight for legislation to make desecration of the flag a crime.

Earlier this summer the U.S. fled $589 million in Indian rupees. New Delhi then devalued its currency and the rupees were suddenly worth $372 million. The beleaguered taxpayer lost $217 million. (Copyright, 1966, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I just read that asinine letter from the man who was mad at you because you told another male reader he should not have helped the little girl in the church rest-room. Please print this letter as a lesson to all kind-hearted men who may be inclined to give a helping hand to someone in need.

My two nephews (aged 19 and 17) were driving home after having visited relatives in another city. They saw a teen-age girl on the road. She seemed in distress so they picked her up. She got into the car, said she was trying to get home and had run out of gas.

The truth was that she was running away from home. The boys were stopped by the police who were on the lookout for the girl. My nephews were arrested, charged with statutory rape and spent the night and part of the next day in jail before the girl admitted that they were innocent. The boys' parents spent some mighty anxious hours before the mess was cleared up. The town, of course, is still making bets on "the true story." So you see it does pay to mind your own business. — GREENVILLE

Dear Greenville: I agree. It does pay to mind your own business, but not to the point where we allow ourselves to ignore people in trouble.

The operative word is "judgment." I am dead opposed to picking up hitchhikers (male or female) and have said so repeatedly. To ignore a cry for help, however, as so many people have done in recent years, is inhuman and indefensible.

Dear Ann Landers: The man I am in love with works with me and I see him every day. I cannot see him much at night because he is married to a slob who is so wrapped up in her children she doesn't know she has a husband.

My sweetheart has told me that he can't leave his children now

Squeaky Wheel Gets Oil; Scares Urban Whites

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Signs multiply from coast to coast that both whites and Negroes are misreading the real prospects which confront them in this country.

On the Negro side, all too few leaders realize — and virtually none dares acknowledge publicly — that there is not going to be anything approaching "freedom now" for millions of deprived Negroes.

The better jobs, schools and housing they seek are going to come slowly. Open revolt may seem here and there to speed action but the calamitous events in the big cities since 1964 suggest it is more likely to impede it.

As for the majority whites, they are deluding themselves if they imagine that serious change on the racial front can be deferred past their lifetimes. Today's 20 million Negroes will soon be 25 million, and then 30 million. Their presence — and their problems — cannot be wished away with a wand.

Far too many Negro leaders have raised Negro expectations miles beyond the practical prospect for early fulfillment. They — and some of their sympathetic white friends — then have left to a puzzled and sometimes over-matched police, the problem of dealing with the terrible frustrations thus stirred.

A surprising number of allegedly responsible Negroes are blinding themselves to the damaging consequences of riot and near-riot. Convinced that pressure works, they draw no fine distinctions between what is extreme and what is not.

NAACP leader Roy Wilkins told this reporter he made little headway when arguing with one Negro in a meeting that it was just as bad for Negroes in Watts to pull whites out of their cars and beat them as it was for whites to beat fatally a young Negro who sought a job in all-white Cicero, Ill. Said Wilkins at the time:

"Black death, white death, it's all the same."

Though dramatic protest and reaction brought the passage of the major 1964 and 1965 Civil Rights Acts, it appears only partly true that "the squeaky wheel gets the grease." There is ample evidence that the squeaky wheel is driving millions of urban whites out of earshot.

White schools and white residential areas pushed against with screaming slogans quickly turn all black, and the "de facto segregation" complained of in northern cities simply widens its arena.

Deep new fears are aroused and vital white good will, none too robust in some cities, is rapidly dissipated.

In their righteous indignation over lawlessness excused in the name of legitimate Negro aspirations, many whites are, however, equating good civic order with no progress at all for the Negro.

An Orange County, Calif., conservative conceded privately not long ago that racial change had to come eventually. But he admitted he hoped to avoid the discomfort of it while he is alive.

Despite all the unrest of this and earlier summers, this kind of hope seems to govern even the most responsible white business, professional and civic leadership in countless large American communities.

The spirit of urgency President Johnson evidently hoped to engender by his June White House Conference on Civil Rights has not really enlisted the white community. With only occasional exceptions, it is still acting as if the massive problems of the Negroes — and the urban cores they occupy — can be merely nibbled at.

Notwithstanding the contentions of our foreign critics, Americans do not like to attend to even one war at a time. To ask them to get fired up about two at once — in faraway Viet Nam and in their own cities — is to seek a great deal.

The cost of the Viet Nam fighting already is pinching economically. White leaders just shake their heads when Negro spokesmen talk of $100 billion betterment programs.

Yet some kind of urgency, producing action on the grand scale, which means big money, is believed in key government circles here to be crucial to sane progress on the racial front.

If big and actionable plans are not to be the final consequence of the June conference, then the outlook would seem to be for more civil turmoil — vehement Negro protest tending toward riot, and increasingly violent white reaction. The nation cannot forever suffer such deep wounds and have any mutual white-Negro good will left to bridge the great racial chasm which threatens it.

The Mature Parent

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Though our daughter has never told us that her marriage is unhappy we know it is. Her husband seems to take pleasure in making cutting remarks to her in our presence. Recently I noticed that her hands tremble. Last Friday my husband had words with her husband over a remark he made to her and we left their house. I am so afraid that my husband only made more trouble for her. There is a little boy of 4...

ANSWER: Maybe your husband made good for her, not trouble.

Anyway, if you're asking me my opinion of what he did, I must tell you I think it was splendid. His explosion of honest and open resentment of your son-in-law's behavior may be exactly what your daughter needs to explode her own—and end this hand trembling.

You're upset because your husband "interfered" in her business, aren't you? He broke the law that governs the behavior of parents of married children.

O.K. So you're another member of the American Association for the Repression of Parents. Oh, I know you don't know you are.

This subversive association doesn't openly solicit membership. The professional child-adversers who direct it just write books, magazine articles and make speeches about the psychological disasters we will inflict upon a child if we ever express ourselves honestly and forcibly. When we've read and heard enough to be scared out of our wits, then we're sold. We live by their slogan. "Parents should be seen but not heard under any circumstances" —and become a member in good standing of their million-member passive parent organization.

If your daughter didn't like her father's "interference" in her business, let her push it away, for heaven's sake.

Boy, who's to wonder at the rate we American parents are losing the respect of our children? Well-trained ciphers that we are, why should they respect us? What's in us to respect? No feeling, no passion, no conviction — just terror of offending the authorities who write the by-laws for the Association for the Repression of Parents.

Don't ask me for sympathy for your "upset." What did you want your husband to do? Just stand there while the child he loves was hurt and humiliated?

Witnessing his forthright rejection of cruelty was the best thing that could have happened to her. It's just possible that her acceptance of it has been inherited from you.

Barbs

That bank's interest in your savings account is a matter of principal.

An honest golfer is one who tells the hole-truth.

I work as a draftsman and I use colored pencils for graphs and charts. For several years I used my handkerchief to smooth out the colored portions.

One day my wife asked me, "Who in your office uses purple lipstick?"

When I told her I didn't understand her question she confessed that she thought I was having affairs with several different women because she had found red, pink, orange (and now purple) smudges on my handkerchiefs.

When I explained she said, "What a crazy fool I have been." So you see, Ann, you are right. It's always wise to clear the air.

— NOT GUILTY

Dear Not: Any guy who would use his handkerchief for red and pink pencil smudges must have a very clear conscience, indeed.

Ann Landers will be glad to help with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Donna Moeller Is Bride of Harry Cover

MR. AND MRS. HARRY COVER JR.

NELSON — Anderson Memorial Methodist Church was the setting for the July 29 marriage of Miss Donna Moeller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Moeller, and Harry Cover Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cover Sr., when the Rev. Thomas Oakes, pastor of the Eldena EUB Church, officiated.

Mrs. James Kophamer, Sterling, accompanied Mrs. Daryl Knutson as she sang "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer," and floral decorations for the double-ring ceremony were altar bouquets of white gladioli and foliage.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a lace-trimmed floor length gown of white nylon tulle designed with tapered sleeves and a square neckline edged with scalloped lace. A redingote overskirt accented the gown's bouffant skirt, and her bridal veil of silk illusion was attached to a seed pearl crown. She wore a two-strand pearl necklace, and her bouquet of white carnations, lilies-of-the-valley and ivy was carried atop a white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Diane Moeller, who attended her twin sister as maid of honor, was attired in a full length empire gown of pastel blueorgette over matching taffeta complemented by a brief jacket of nylon lace and a veiled blue headpiece held in place by a seed pearl bow. Her flowers were blue and white carnations arranged in a colonial bouquet.

Gene Brooks, Woosung, was Mr. Cover's best man, and guests were ushered by the bride's brothers, Robert and Richard Moeller.

Mrs. Moeller chose a two-piece costume of beige linen worn with beige accessories and a white carnation corsage, and a gold A-line dress, matching accessories and an orchid corsage were chosen for the ceremony by the bridegroom's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilson, Dixon, the bride's uncle and aunt, were hosts for a reception held in the auditorium of the Nelson School following the evening service when more than 200 guests were registered by Miss Jane Crabtree, Dixon. A cloth of white brocaded linen covered the refreshment table which held a tiered heart-shaped wedding cake baked and decorated with pink roses by Mrs. Fred Johns, Dixon. Decorations for the auditorium included wedding bells arranged with foliage by Mr. Wilson, and table appointments in blue and white, selected colors of the bride, were lighted tapers in crystal holders.

The wedding cake, topped with a bridal ornament and encircled by a garland of blue carnations, was served by Mrs. Peter Dempsey, Dixon, and pouring punch and coffee were Miss Rita Barnhart, Sterling, and Mrs. Larry Moeller, Rock Falls, sister-in-law of the bride. Wedding Vows Are Exchanged By Miss Deets and Mr. Ford

POLO — A white lace gown was worn by Miss Anita Louise Deets, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Deets, when she repeated marriage vows with Daniel Lewis Ford, son of the Edgar Fords, in a candlelight wedding performed July 23 in East Jordan EUB Church by the church pastor, the Rev. William L. Bryan.

A prelude of organ music was played by Curt Williams, Sterling, who also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Wayne Geeting, Sterling, as she sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer," and decorations for the double-ring ceremony included white satin pew-bows, altar bouquets of blue and white carnations and lighted tapers.

Bridal Gown
Tiers of rhinestone-embroidered lace formed a detachable chapel train accenting the bouffant skirt of the bride's floor length gown which was worn over silk taffeta and also featured tapered sleeves and a scalloped neckline. A headpiece of white satin petals and teardrop pearls held her fingertip veil of silk illusion, and the silver cross pendant she wore was a gift from Mr. Ford. Blue ribbon streamers were attached to the cascading bouquet of white carnations and foliage she carried as she was escorted to the altar by her father.

Mrs. Carroll Haijenga, the bride's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Janice Broers and Miss Lora Deets, sister of the bride, were attired in full length empire, sheaths of blue dotted Swiss over taffeta. Ruffles trimmed their elbow-length sleeves, and blue velvet ribbons with attached streamers encircled their waistlines. Their headresses were veiled, clusters of blue satin petals, and blue and white carnations were combined in the colonial bouquets they carried. Their gifts from the bride were heart-shaped rhinestone pendants.

Mrs. Deets chose a two-piece costume of navy blue jersey for her daughter's wedding, and a pink cotton sheath was worn by the bridegroom's mother. Both selected white accessories and corsages of blue and white carnations.

Mr. Ford's best man was Kenneth Ditzler; groomsmen were the bridegroom's brother, Bradley Ford, and Carroll Haijenga, and ushering was done by the bride's cousin, David Deets, Dixon, and Richard Ford, also a brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. George Poffenberger, Freeport, registered 100 guests who were entertained at a reception held in the church parlors following the service when Mr. and Mrs. Harland Voss, Milledge-

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL L. FORD

ville, were hosts. A blue and white four-tiered cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Robert Haijenga, and topped by miniature figures of a bridal couple, centered the refreshment table and was served by Miss Evelyn Deets, Sterling, and Miss Barbara Finkle, Milledgeville, aunt and cousin of the bride. Presiding at the coffee service and punch bowl were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Lester Mathews, Yates City, and Mrs. John Boward, and in charge of the gift display were Miss Terri Finkle and Miss Barbara Finkle, Milledgeville, cousins of the bride; Mrs. James Spangler, Franklin Grove; Miss Carol Gorski and Miss Sharon Taylor. National League Roundup

Jaster Is Tops vs. LA

Larry Jaster must wait until the last week of the season to find out if he's another Grover Cleveland Alexander.

Jaster, St. Louis' rookie southpaw, posted his fourth shutout of the season against Los Angeles Friday night as the Cardinals defeated the Dodgers 4-0.

The shutout left Jaster one away from equalling the major-league record of five in one season against one club. Only two pitchers have accomplished the feat in modern times, one in each league.

Alexander did it for Philadelphia against Cincinnati in 1916 in the National League, and Tom Hughes of Washington did it against Cleveland in 1905 in the American.

If Jaster is to tie the mark, he'll have to do it in the Cardinals' four-game series with the Dodgers Sept. 26 through Sept. 29.

The 22-year-old left-hander has no concrete explanation for his incredible success against the Dodgers, who are only two games out of first place in the NL.

"I can't explain it," he said after pitching a five-hitter. "I've just had real good stuff every time I pitched against them. They don't have any home run hitters, and I just rear back and throw."

"I'm too careful against some of the other teams in the league. When I am careful is when I get hurt."

Jaster apparently is too careful just about every other time he pitches. His four shutouts against Los Angeles are the only four he has this year, and they also represent the only four games he's completed in 13 starts.

He's 8-3 overall with a 3.43 earned run average. But deduct his 36 consecutive scoreless innings against the Dodgers, and his ERA soars to 5.46.

In other NL games Chicago edged Pittsburgh 4-3 in 10 innings, Atlanta downed San Francisco 8-5, Philadelphia nipped New York 5-4 in 10 and Houston topped Cincinnati 4-3.

Julian Javier gave Jaster all the support he needed, driving in two runs with a single and a double.

The Pirates lost their third straight game. They tied the game 3-3 on Roberto Clemente's two-run single in the eighth, but Chicago won in the 10th when Glenn Beckert singled home George Altman, who had reached first on Donn Clendenon's fumble.

By losing, San Francisco remained a percentage point behind Pittsburgh in the NL race. Atlanta put the game beyond reach in the seventh when Rico Carty hit a three-run homer and Mack Jones followed with a bases-empty blast. Willie Mays and Jim Hart connected for the Giants.

Rich Allen's two-out homer in the 10th boosted Philadelphia past New York. Ken Boyer's run-scoring single put the Mets ahead 4-3 in the seventh, but Harvey Kuenn's run-producing single tied it in the ninth.

Sonny Jackson rapped four hits, the last a ninth-inning single after which he scored the winning run for Houston on Rusty Staub's single. Jackson also hit a two-run homer in the first.

Friday's Stars

BATTING — Sonny Jackson, Astros, rapped an inside-the-park homer and three singles, and scored the winning run in the ninth in a 4-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Michaels, Unitas Are Standouts

The Baltimore Colts won their 10th straight pro football exhibition game Friday night emphasizing anew that they will be a strong contender for the National Football League title this season.

The Colts spotted St. Louis a 7-0 lead on the opening kickoff, then exploded for a convincing 33-7 victory over the Cardinals before 28,304 at Busch Memorial Stadium.

5 Games Tonight

The game, nationally televised over the CBS network, started a busy weekend for the pros. Five NFL exhibitions are scheduled tonight along with four in the American League, including a two-night double-header at Anaheim, Calif. One Sunday NFL exhibition winds up the weekend competition.

Four field goals by Lou Michaels, two long punt returns by Alvin Raymond and the passing of quarterback Johnny Unitas paced the Colts to their third straight pre-season victory of the 1966 season. Their 10 straight exhibition string of successes started back in 1964 after a 30-21 defeat, oddly, by St. Louis.

Lone Card TD

Charley Johnson's 7-yard pass to Sonny Randall gave the Cardinals their lone TD and climaxed a 77-yard drive after receiving the opening kickoff. Thereafter the Colts took command.

Quarterback John Brodie is expected to make his first start for the San Francisco 49ers against the Pittsburgh Steelers at Portland, Ore. in one of tonight's NFL games. In the others, Green Bay is at Dallas, Los Angeles at Minnesota, Cleveland at Atlanta while Chicago and Washington clash at Norfolk, Va.

The AFL twin bill at Anaheim pits Boston against Oakland and Kansas City against San Diego. The New York Jets play Miami at Jacksonville Fla. while Buffalo and Houston battle at Little Rock, Ark.

The NFL Sunday afternoon fray pits the New York Giants against Detroit at New Haven, Conn. in the annual Albie Booth Memorial game.

Tebbetts Quits Indian Post

CLEVELAND (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts resigned Friday night as manager of the Cleveland Indians. The announcement was made following the Indians' 3-2 victory over Chicago.

George Strickland, Cleveland's third base coach, was named to fill the position the remainder of the season.

At a conference, General Manager Gabe Paul said "Birdie and I discussed the managerial matter late this afternoon and decided that since it was his feeling that for the good of baseball and Cleveland and all concerned, he should not return in 1967.

Church League

There will be a meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. for all those interested in Church League Bowling.

All captains and other interested bowlers are invited.

Franklin Center Distributes Gear

FRANKLIN GROVE — Football equipment will be distributed Monday and Tuesday at Franklin Center High School. Seniors, juniors and all other lettermen are asked to report on Monday, while sophomores and freshmen will report on Tuesday.

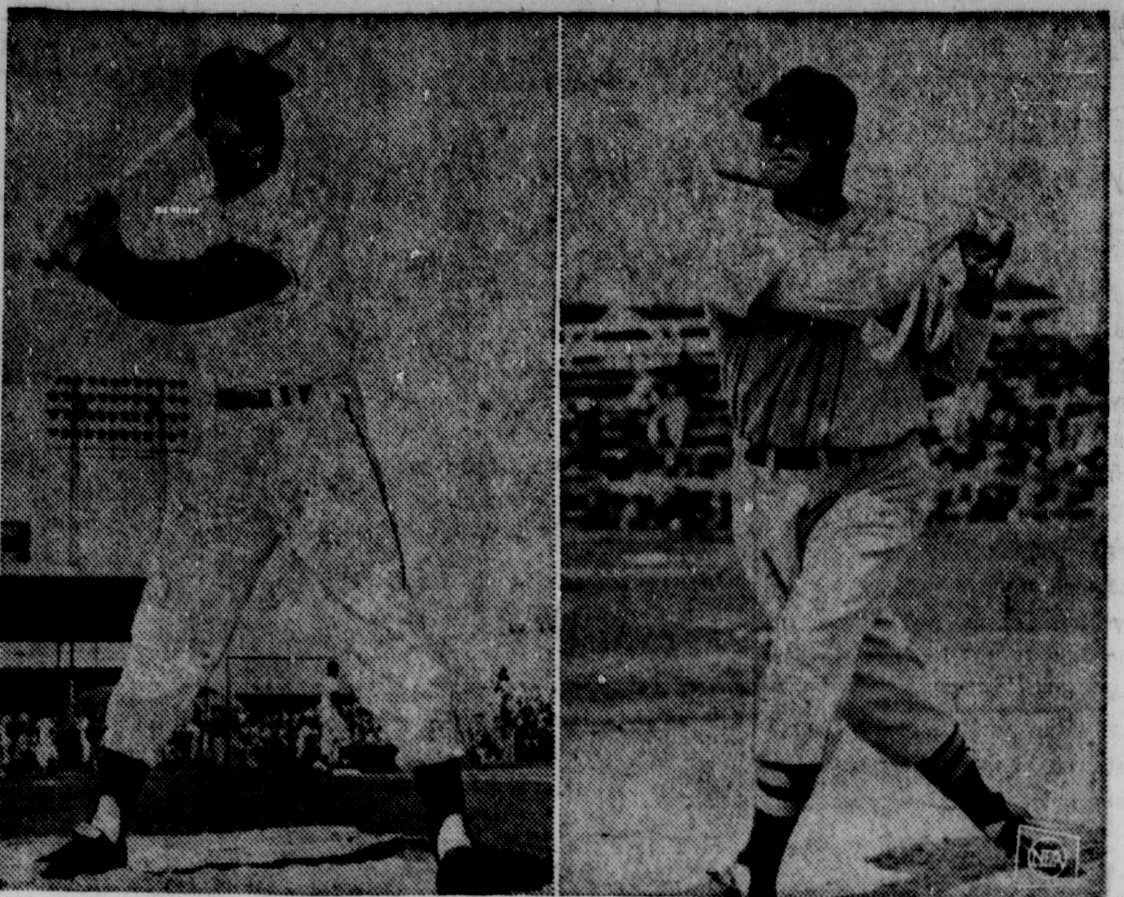

Each of the two sessions will extend from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Each player is requested to know hat, shoe and waist size.

Old Timers

Game Sunday

Three Old-Timer teams have been set up to play Sunday night. One team, managed by Orville Brindle, will play the City League All-Stars. The other two teams, managed by Harry Staudts and Ralph Contreras, will play each other.

The All-Star game is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. The second game will follow at 9 p.m.

Wonderful Willie

Mays, left, of the San Francisco Giants slugged his 29th home run of the season the night of Aug. 16 to tie Jimmy Foxx for second place on the all-time homer list with 534. Since then he has hit two more and is second only to Babe Ruth on the slugger list.

Tigers Stun Orioles, Shatter Bird Streak

Mickey Lolich is catching up fast with Denny McLain — perhaps a little too fast for the Detroit Tigers.

Lolich breezed to his fifth victory in six decisions since the All-Star break as the Tigers stunned Baltimore's American League leaders 10-4 Friday night.

The stylish Tiger left-hander now has a 12-8 season record, compared to 14-10 for teammate McLain, who has dropped six of seven since starting for the AL Stars at St. Louis July 12.

The Tigers' fourth straight victory trimmed Baltimore's fat margin to 12½ games. They hope to cut it further today and Sunday — despite the apparent loss of Al Kaline for the final two games of the three-game set.

But, had Lolich and McLain not been going in opposite directions for the past month, the Tigers would be knocking at the door. On July 15 they were six games off the pace and McLain was the league's top winner at 13-4.

The young right-hander took his fifth loss the next day and still hasn't braked his tailspin. And the Tigers have never been seven or more games away since then.

Lolich, however, has kept the Detroit pitching staff afloat — with help from right-hander George Wilson — during McLain's demise. Lolich's only setback since the All-Star interval was a 2-1 loss to Kansas City on July 30.

In other AL games Friday night, the Minnesota Twins edged Boston 2-1 for their fifth straight victory; Cleveland nipped Chicago 3-2 on Leon Wagner's 10th inning homer; Washington downed California 5-3 on Frank Howard's three-run blast and Kansas City shaded New York 1-0 after bowing to the Yankees 7-5 in the opener of their doubleheader.

Baltimore starter Eddie Watt hit Kaline on the right hand with a pitch, forcing in one of three Tiger runs in the first inning and sending the Detroit star to a hospital for X rays. There was no fracture but he suffered a painful bruise on the fourth finger of the hand and is expected to be out of action for several days.

The Orioles, who had won five in a row, bounced back with three runs in the second but Lolich's bunt single touched off a two-run rally in the bottom of the inning that sent the Tigers ahead to stay.

Earl Battey's two-run double in the first inning gave the Twins their winning margin and helped Jim Kaat register his 18th victory — tops in the league. Kaat needed relief help from Al Worthington in the eighth after checking the Red Sox on four hits through seven innings.

Wagner's 21st homer, off Juan Pizarro with one out in the 10th, broke a 2-2 deadlock. Fred Whitfield and Rocky Colavito also homered for the Indians.

Franklin Grove, St. Paul's Win

In the Church League double-header Friday night at Reynolds Field, St. Paul's and Franklin Grove both won, the latter team by a very large margin. Both games were makeup games.

In the first contest, St. Paul's topped Immanuel 7-3. The game was a pitching duel for five innings with the score being 1-1. Then both teams scored two runs in the sixth inning. St. Paul's did it with two extra base hits by Rodney Bollman and Steve Wade, both doubles. However, the losers did it with no hits. The winners got their winning runs in the seventh inning on only one hit.

St. Paul's got their first run with one out in the second inning. At that time, Ron Winters singled in a run.

The losers got their first tally in the third inning on a hit and error.

The hitting star for the winners was Rodney Bollman, who had three hits.

The winning pitcher for Immanuel was Lloyd Bollman. He hurled a one-hitter, a single by Stan Hopkins, and struck out 11 batters, with four in one inning. The loser was Cecil Parke.

The game went only five innings because of the 10-run rule.

Score By Innings
St. Paul's 010 002 4-7 7 5
Immanuel 001 002 0-3 1 2
The second game was a different story, as Franklin Grove routed First Baptist, 27-10. They scored at least three runs in every inning and 11 in the fourth on nine hits, three being for extra bases. Their hitting stars were Clete Fair, who hit for the cycle with a single, double, triple and homer; Bob Pitzer, who made seven hits; and Dale Pitzer, who made two extra-base hits.

First Baptist was in the game for only one inning, and that was the first. After that inning, they were trailing only 3-2. Dan Tovar drove in the two runs with an inside-the-park homer.

The other hitting stars for Baptist were Bill Appleman, who had another inside-the-park home run, besides a single; and Gary Cunningham, who singled and had a triple. He was the losing pitcher.

The winner was Bob Pitzer. The game lasted only five innings because of the 10-run rule.

Score By Innings
Franklin Gr. 355 11 3-27 21 4
First Baptist 205 1 2-10 7 6

OFFENSE

PASSING—The Allie Sherman touch with faded, jaded quarterbacks, worked again with the revival of Earl Morrall after he joined club on eve of season. No reason the Earl shouldn't have another good year. He has to, because Gary Wood's not going to lead 'em any place. RATING—B

RECEIVING—The old order changeth slowly. Del Shofner's back, but he's going to need a revival to save off Homer Jones as the split end. Joe Morrison, the veteran handy man, has settled down as a flanker, and Aaron Thomas is stabilized as tight end (though he's also swift enough for a flanker). But Freeman White, up from Nebraska, will push them. RATING—B

RUNNING—Tucker Frederickson's in line to take over Jim Brown's mantle as fullback supreme. Gets universal respect. His running mates tend to mediocrity, though. Steve Thurlow, fumble prone, might be supplanted by Ernie Koy. Smith Reed has more speed than any of them. RATING—B+

LINE—The strength is in the middle, where Greg Larson (amazing comeback case after bad knee) is shouldered on both sides by Bookie Bolin and Pete Case. But tackles are in bad shape since Rosey Brown came down with phlebitis. That's why No. 1 rookie Francis Peay is so vital in planning. Jim Moran's working at offensive tackle, too. RATING—B

KICKING—It better be good, for all the fuss over signing of Pete Gogolak. Gogo will immediately ease the field goal deficiency which plagued them last year. For punting, Koy gets them high, if not ultra far, and reduces returns. RATING—A

DEFENSE

LINE—Last year's merry-go-round will be stopped if Don Davis, a California giant, asserts himself at a tackle spot. Nobody's going to beat out Jim Katcavage at one end, and Rosey Davis looks like he's ready to take over at right end. Still leaves one tackle to go because John Lovetere's knee is so bad he is out for the year. Could be Jim Prestel, ex-Viking, or even Lou Slaby. RATING—B

LINEBACKING—Jerry Hillebrand found a home at the middle spot last year, but the corner boys—Bill Swain, Jim Carroll, Olen Underwood—find themselves squeezed by Jeff Smith, a tremendous physical specimen from USC, for at least one of the corner posts. It's still a young, inexperienced unit. RATING—C+

SECONDARY—Dick Lynch, Jim Patton go back almost as far as modern success of Giants, but they'll be lucky this year to stave off the youth movement started last year by Emilin's Gremlins. The potentially best, Willie Williams, skipped off to Oakland, but still around are Spider Lockhart, Henry Carr, Clarence Childs, Rookie Phil Harris, ex-Colt Wendell Harris figure, too. RATING—B

SUMMARY—The Giants were something of a miracle team last year with their fluid defense. They gambled on a lot of blitzing and got by with it against the weaker teams. The defense is still in something of a state of flux and the offensive line lacks tackles, so they'll be doing well to repeat their .500 record. PREDICTION—FOURTH
